

Mr. Hans Ransom,

This letter is in reference to Hawkridge Enterprises, located in North Augusta, SC. I've been affiliated with Mr. Whitaker and colleagues for approximately 12 years. We worked together on Capital Projects at the Searle Facility, currently Pfizer, Inc. at their Augusta, Ga. Manufacturing Facility. Mr Whitaker performed the fireproofing of approximately 40 tank saddles (2 per tank), pipe racks, building support steel and applications throughout the facility.

The Hawkridge Team always performed in a most professional manner, team oriented, always met our scheduled activities, flexible to the needs of our operational schedules, workmanship always of a very high quality and most of all safety being of the utmost importance to the team. I've moved on from the Pfizer, Augusta Facility and I'm involved in renovations at the Roche Carolina Facility, in Florence, SC.

I'd recently called upon the Hawkridge Team to join the RFQ process to perform the fire proofing of structural members supporting an elevated slab, also the fireproofing of approximately 20 block outs and penetrations (walls & floors) throughout our Launch Facility. This was a task scheduled over a 14 day duration, the Hawkridge Team Mobilized at the facility and completed this task in 7 days. This is the type of team work that I look for when requesting quotes from contractors. The response from this Team has always been exceptional and I will be calling on them for the Phase II of the RCI renovation.

With all of the above stated...Hawkridge Enterprises was not only acceptable with the bidding process, they traveled to perform this task and completed in a shorter time period than local contract firms. Best Regards,
